

BLOSSOM HILL APRICOTS

Blossom Hill Packing has been family owned for over 90 years, with over 35 years growing and shipping apricots.

In 1917, Louis Lucich started growing apricots and prunes in the Santa Clara Valley. In 1959, his son moved the family to Patterson where they continue their business today. Today, the third generation keeps the family tradition growing.

In an ever changing market, the team at Blossom Hill has adapted and grown to meet the needs of their customers, with over 1000 acres of apricots, 200 of which are now organic. Although apricots are a very sensitive fruit, the team at Blossom Hill strives to grow, pack, and ship apricots so that customers will find them sweet and juicy.

They also make food safety an integral part of their operation. Their produce is delicious as well as safe and pathogen free. Blossom Hill Packing has implemented a first-class Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) benchmarked food safety program and is working towards further certifications.
