

SARABIAN FARMS

SANGER, CA FOUR GENERATIONS

--
ROW CROPS

Sarabian Farms is a multi– generational farm, now in its fourth generation as a family grower– shipper specializing in a variety of fruits and vegetables. Its operations all take place in the Central Valley of California in Sanger.

They grow a variety of row crops, including onions, fava beans, sunchokes, Asian vegetables such as lemon grass, Asian eggplants, okra, daikon, and numerous other seasonal items that vary from year to year. In addition to the row crops, Sarabian Farms has numerous permanent crops under its direct control, including, grapes, watermelon, peaches, plums, and nectarines.

As a complement to their farming operation, they have become pioneers in packaging. This combination of growing and packing provides them the unique ability to custom tailor specific packing styles for the products they grow. Sarabian Farms can handle both organic and conventional product. Their mission statement: "Serving our customers with the finest, natural, Sunshine Fresh produce in the Central Valley."
